

LOCAL ANTHROPOGENIES – SEMIOTICS

PHILOSOPHY OF PHOTOGRAPHY

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Towards a Philosophy instigated by Photography

Part One: The Texture and Structure of the Photograph

Chapter 1 - The Abstractive Imprint

Chapter 2 - Indices and Indexes

Chapter 3 - Field Effects before Denotations and Connotations

Chapter 4 - The Non-Scene: on the Obscene in Stimuli-Signs and Figures

Chapter 5 - Reproduction and Transmutability: Process and Relay

Chapter 6 - The Reality and the Real, the Cosmos-mundus and the Universe, the Possible and the Black Box

Chapter 7 - The Triggering of Mental Schemas

Chapter 8 - Types Differing from Black and White

Part Two: Photographic Initiatives

Chapter 9 - The Initiative of Industrial Technology

Chapter 10 - The Initiative of Nature

Chapter 11 - The Initiative of the Spectacle: Photogenius

Chapter 12 - The Initiative of the Photographer: Trap and Switch Mediumnity

Part Three: Photographic Behaviors

Chapter 13 - Pragmatic Behaviors

Chapter 14 - Artistic Behaviors

Chapter 15 - Scientific, Documentary and Testimonial Behaviours

Postface: New Theoretical Perspectives

Appendix: Pierce and Photography